The Bundren's Are Coming to Town

Yes, the rumors are true! The Bundren's are in town! They have traveled quite a ways to get here, too. We have taken careful notes on their travels. First, they were seen walking up to Samson's house. Dewey Dell was not pleasant to be around by this time. "...and then I found that girl watching me. If her eyes had been pistols, I wouldn't be talking right now" says Samson, as he described the situation that happened then and there. Then, they were seen crossing a river and neighbor Tull walked up to talk to them. "Jewel just lashed out and said, 'Get the hell on back to your damn plowing.' Then he said, 'Who the hell asked you to follow us here?' It was just awful to hear how that child talks to adults!" recalls Bo Johnson, who lives nearby. Hopefully, they get into town and cheer up!
